LEO Related Visitor Outreach

Blue family is universal and knows no boundaries! It's always nice to know there is a safe and trustworthy place to reach out to for support and resources if they are ever needed. As the head of LEO Related Visitor Outreach, you are responsible for connecting officers and family members from non-local agencies to the available local resources they may need during their stay in your city. These officers and family members may have experienced an emergency, illness or simply need information about your city. Especially in the event of a critical incident occurring, it is important to have someone ready to step up and facilitate any needs of the family. You would be their contact point to offer insight as to how to navigate an emergency situation within your community.
